LOVE HOLDS THESE CLUB MEMBERS TOGETHER

In a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, where thousands of nameless babies first see the light of day. (Insert) Play time in the nursery of a Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital.

Out-of-Love Club members, whose little nameless babies first saw the light of day in a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, meet once a month in each of the twenty-three cities in this country in which there is a Salvation Army Rescue Home. They discuss their problems, their work, their gratitude to the organization that sheltered them when they were friendless, their plans for the future.

The members of the club, which is one of the biggest women's organizations in the country, numbering more than 30,000, were all at one time inmates of a Salvation Army Rescue Home for unfortunate women.

They are all employed now in positions which the Salvation Army has found for them, and they are all making good. They come back from time to time to the meetings of their club to help the girls who are still inmates of the institutions, to bring a little sunshine into their lives and give them new hope for the future.

This is the system that the Salvation Army uses to keep in touch with the girls who have passed out of the Rescue Homes. This is one of the reasons why more than 85 per cent of all the women who are graduates of the Army's twenty-six institutions for erring girls are now supporting themselves and their children and leading self-respecting lives.

The Salvation Army Rescue Homes are one of the many activities to be supported by the Salvation Army's $10,000,000 Home Service Fund, for which an appeal will be made from May 10 to 20.

AUCTION LUNCHEON

Saturday morning at her home, Marwood, from 12 to 1 p. m. Mrs. R. L. Anderson Sr. was the hospitable hostess of a two-table auction luncheon, complimenting her daughter, Mrs. M. J. Roess of Jacksonville.

The two tables were placed on the north veranda, which was unusually attractive with its decorations of vases of flowers artistically arranged in appropriate places and until one o'clock auction was very much enjoyed, when the guests were joined by Messrs. R. L. Anderson Sr., R. L. Anderson Jr. and J. H. Mason of Tampa, an extra table was added and a two-course luncheon was served.

Upon the count for highest score it was found that Mrs. R. L. Anderson Jr. made the high score and was awarded a dainty writing pad and to the honoree, Mrs. Roess, the hostess also presented a lovely prize.

The following were those present: Mrs. J. H. Mason, Tampa, Mrs. R. C. Camp, Mrs. Fred Hocker, Mrs. R. L. Anderson Jr., Mrs. Harvey Clark, Mrs. Harry Dozier, Mrs. M. J. Roess, Jacksonville, Misses Mary Burford and Caroline Harriss, Messrs. J. H. Mason, R. L. Anderson Sr. and R. L. Anderson Jr.
